"Arthur Roederer" Champagne.

[From the New York Christmas Graphic.]

THERE are, doubtless, many excellent wines in this market that have become popular with connoisseurs. But this is no reason why an article of surpassing merit should not supersede their use. The house of Arthur Roederer, founded at Rheims in 1876, exports the finest wine that is produced in France. It is a champagne of a light golden complexion, artistically put up in white crystal glass, with a deep gold cap, tastefully encircled around the mouth and neck of the bottle. The wine is certainly the dryest in the market, and of a delicious smack, most grateful flavor, with a good after-taste and no disagreeable effects. The most delicate ladies can partake of it because of its simple and perfect purity. It is full of life, with an active effervescence and a lingering sparkle, and has been pronounced by judges the most delightful champagne wine ever introduced into this country. The agency is in the hands of Messrs. Haviland & Co., the well-known manufacturers of Faïences d'Art and Porcelaines, at Limoges and Paris, who have also in stock the finest clarets, sherries, and brandies and olive oils. The brandy is of the vintages of 1795 and 1820, conceded to be the best in the country, and the sherry, of the vintage of 1852, is so superior in quality, and of such exquisite bouquet, that there is none in this market comparable to it. Nor is the olive oil brought from Nice equalled by any other importation—at least such is the verdict of acknowledged connoisseurs. It is observable that the demand for pure brandies is slowly but unmistakably increasing in the United States. Those who are familiar with the statistics of this article of trade note the fact, and base it upon the ground that high-class purchasers, and especially druggists, in order to secure unadulterated liquors, are seeking the finest grades for their customers. This is a strong inducement for producers to offer an article that will be perfectly reliable, and an equally powerful incentive to reputable dealers to procure OLD brands, known to be exceptionally pure. Because, although it is confessed that even in the cognac region of France, tricks and arts are practised to mislead and deceive consumers, it is well known that OLD CELEBRATED vintners achieved their reputation solely through the character of their wines, and the growers had too much at stake to jeopardize their reputation by turning out other than the purest article. Messrs. Haviland & Co. plume themselves upon securing the very choicest brandy made in France; and so with their clarets and sherry. They do not pretend to cater to other than the most cultivated tastes, and hence they have taken great interest in the "Arthur Roederer" brand of champagne, impressed with the conviction of its destiny to become the LEADING wine in this market. The acknowledged reputation of the wares of their own manufacture should be a sufficient guarantee to the people of the United States of the wines, brandies, and oil which they have introduced,

Popular Books FOR THE YOUNG.

GRIMM HOUSEHOLD STORIES.

From the collection of the BROS. GRIMM.

Translated from the German by LUCY CRANE. Done into pictures by Walter Crane. 12mo, $2.

"Grimm's Fairy Tales are ever fresh, and for this new rendering we have a guarantee in a name not unknown to literature. . . . He has here showered upon us a profusion of designs in his very happiest style. We doubt whether children ever had so much pains taken with them before."—Academy.

"This beautiful work will bear the strongest commendation. It is a treasury of pure fancy, rich imagination, and charming style. It contains the notable fairy tales which every youngster learns with new interest, and which the civilized world everywhere remembers and cherishes as part of the heritage of its childhood."—Christian Union.

"The illustrations alone would make a charming portfolio of choice drawings, while the translation is particularly smooth and excellent. It is the most delightful version of these old fairy tales ever issued."—Churchman.

THE HORKEY.

A BALLAD.

By ROBERT BLOOMFIELD.

With illustrations by GEORGE CRUIKSHANK. Beautifully printed in colors by Clay, Sons & Taylor. 4to, boards, $1.50.

"What could be more dainty and altogether charming than George Cruikshank's illustrations to Robert Bloomfield's ballad of 'The Horkey'? The drawings are the cleverest things imaginable, and the color-printing is something to excite the enthusiasm of a connoisseur."—Boston Traveller.

"The book is one of the best we have yet received this season."—Athenaeum.

"Cruikshank has hit the subject in the eye of it. His imagination seems to have flamed into pictures which he pours out on every page in the profusion of his exquisite fancy."—Independent.

"The work is lavishly and beautifully illustrated. Apart from its merits, the illustrations alone would be sure to attract universal attention."—Philadelphia Item.

NEW BOOKS

BY MRS. MOLESWORTH,

Author of "Carrots," "Cuckoo Clock," etc.

ROSY.

By Mrs. MOLESWORTH. Illustrated by Walter Crane. 16mo, $1.25.

"No English writer of stories for children has a better reputation than Mrs. Molesworth, and none with whose stories we are familiar deserves it better. She has a motherly knowledge of the child nature, a clear sense of character, the power of investing simple incident with interest, and the ease which comes of continuous practice. . . . It is a very pleasant little child novel that she has written, and Mr. Crane has drawn for it some of his most characteristic illustrations."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

By the same author, each volume, $1.25:

Carrots, Cuckoo Clock,
Tell Me a Story, Grandmother Dear,
Christmas Child, Tapestry Room.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS' NEW BOOKS FOR PRESENTS.

POEMS OF AMERICAN PATRIOTISM.

Chosen by J. BRANDER MATTHEWS. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

"An every way beautiful book, containing fifty-six of our best national poems. . . . Taken as a whole, we doubt whether the poetic literature of England would yield a richer collection of purely patriotic poetry than this."—The Mail and Express.

COREA, THE HERMIT NATION.

By WILLIAM ELLIOT GRIFFIS, author of "The Mikado's Empire," and late of the Imperial University of Tokio, Japan. 1 vol., 8vo, with numerous maps and illustrations, $3.50.

"The work bears witness to a vast amount of well-directed labor, and while it is clothed with a rare charm for the general reader, whose curiosity regarding a long-isolated nation will for the first time be satisfied, it is also sure of a respectful and graceful reception from the student of history, ethnology, and philology."—New York Sun.

THE LAND OF THE ARABIAN NIGHTS.

Being Travels through Egypt, Arabia, and Persia, to Bagdad. By WILLIAM PERRY FOGG. With an Introduction by Bayard Taylor. A new edition, with nearly 100 illustrations. 1 vol., 8vo, $2.

"A lively and engaging picture of lands and people, which we in this country know little of, is presented by a man of quick, intelligent observation, with a genial but not obtrusive fund of humor, who evidently thoroughly enjoyed every hour of his journeyings."—Chicago Times.

HELEN OF TROY.

By ANDREW LANG. 1 vol., 16mo, $1.50.

"Helen has had many a tribute of song, but few more perfect than this poem. In it the author has proved himself capable of that most difficult of tasks for the modern singer—the task of making a long narrative poem that it is an unmixt pleasure to read."—The Pall Mall Gazette.

GUERNDAL.

By J. S. of Dale. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.25.

"The plot of the story, or rather of the romance, for no other name properly describes it, is full of delicacy and beauty. . . . The author of 'Guernedale' has given us a story such as we have not had in this country since the time of Hawthorne."—Boston Advertiser.

THE CHRONICLE OF THE DRUM.

By WILLIAM M. THACKERAY, with illustrations drawn by Howard Pyle, Fredericks, Frost, Share, Lungren, Woodward, Taylor, Davis, and others. Engraved by French, Closson, J. P. Davis, Hellawell, Heinemann, Andrew, Clement, Karst, and others. 1 vol., 4to, illuminated cloth, full gilt, $5.

"Considered as a poem, with the highest capabilities of illustration, the publishers have availed themselves of all their well-known advantages, and have produced one of the best pictorial volumes of the year.

There is not a point which has not had endless care and pains lavished on it, and the whole work is indicative of that high skill which is to-day attainable in illustrated American works."—New York Times.

WOMAN'S HANDIWORK IN MODERN HOMES.

By CONSTANCE CARY HARRISON. 1 vol., 8vo, richly bound in illuminated cloth. With numerous illustrations, and five colored plates, from designs by Samuel Colman, Rosina Emmet, George Gibson, and others. $2.

"Altogether the most complete book on the matter treated of yet published."—New Haven Register.

"The best thing out in this country on the particular subject of art with the needle and brush, which is now so much studied."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"Mrs. Harrison's book is one of the very few books on household art which can be deservedly commended."—The World.

THE STORY OF SIEGFRIED.

By JAMES BALDWIN. With a series of superb illustrations by Howard Pyle. 1 vol., square 12mo, $2.

"The Story of Siegfried," by James Baldwin, has been published in a very attractive volume, with a number of fine illustrations by Howard Pyle. It gives in a popular form, in charmingly simple and picturesque style, the fascinating romances of the old German epics. No more delightful reading for the young can be imagined than that provided in this interesting book, and the manner of the recital is so graceful that older readers will derive from it scarcely less pleasure."—Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

THE BOOK OF FORTY PUDDINGS.

By SUSAN ANNA BROWN. 1 vol., with attractive and appropriate binding, 50 cents.

"The Book of Forty Puddings" tells of puddings, nothing more or less, but they are the best of puddings for epicures. Very cunningly the appetite is whetted before reading the papers by covers tinted and designed in perfect taste."—Boston Globe.

CLARENCE COOK'S HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

Essays on Beds and Tables, Stools and Candlesticks. By CLARENCE COOK. With over 100 illustrations from original drawings. 1 vol., small 4to, illuminated cloth. New edition. Price reduced to $4.

"The new edition of Clarence Cook's delightfully instructive book, 'The House Beautiful,' seems to be handsomer even than when it first appeared. He has studied all the aesthetics of household construction and decoration, even to the minutest details. The volume is printed in large type, on the best of paper, bound in a uniquely elegant and characteristic cover, and illustrated by over a hundred fine wood engravings, from designs by real artists."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

CUPID, M.D.

A Story. By AUGUSTUS M. SWIFT. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.

"A dainty little love story in a very sparkling and witty manner. The humor is exceedingly bright, the animation of the recital unflagging, and the spirit of the whole delightfully fresh and attractive."—Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

THE GREAT ENGLISH BALLADS. THE BOY'S PERCY.

Edited, with an introduction, by SYDNEY LANIER. With fifty text and full-page illustrations by E. B. Bessell. 1 vol., 8vo, $2.50.

"A beautiful book, which is eminently suited for children, and children of a larger growth. . . . 'The Boy's Percy' is an admirable work in every way, even in what such books must fail in—their art; for Mr. Bessell's illustrations are thoroughly in keeping with the text, and very graceful and spirited besides."—R. H. Stoddard in the Mail and Express.

THE AMERICAN BOY'S HANDY-BOOK; OR, WHAT TO DO, AND HOW TO DO IT.

By DANIEL C. BEARD. With more than 300 illustrations by the author. 1 vol., 8vo, $3.

"This most splendid and complete book for boys is offered to meet a long felt by many for a real practical American boy's book of outdoor sports and amusements. . . . Each particular department is minutely illustrated, and the whole is a complete treasury, invaluable not only to the boys themselves, but to parents and guardians who have at heart their happiness and healthy development of mind and muscle."—Pittsburgh Telegraph.

These Books are for sale by all Booksellers, or will be sent, prepaid, upon receipt of price, by CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, 743 and 745 Broadway, New York.

A GIFT OF GENTIAN, AND OTHER VERSES.

By MAY RILEY SMITH, with illustrations by W. St. John Harper and Theo. Robinson. Small 4to, gilt edges, $2.50.

"Mrs. Smith writes with grace and sweetness, with the ease that is natural to the womanly mind, especially in correspondence, with feeling, with pathos, and with a sense of dependence upon a higher power. The artists have caught the simple, homely feeling of the poetry, and translated it in black and white with tenderness and simplicity."—Mail and Express.

THE BABY'S JOURNAL.

Designed and compiled by S. ALICE BRAG. Oblong 16mo, fancy boards, $1.75.

A book of selections in verse about the baby, with four illustrations, in sepia, of "Weighing the Baby," "The Baby's Bath," "Baby Learning to Walk," etc.; also, with blank pages for gifts, items, etc. A dainty gift for mothers.

Sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price.

SCRIBNER &amp; WELFORD

Offer the following Superbly Illustrated Works to the Public, confident that in intrinsic merit, permanent value, and sumptuous appearance, they are unequalled as appropriate Holiday Gifts:

FLORENCE. — Its History — The Medici — Its Scholars,

Architecture, Painting, Sculpture, etc. By Charles Yriarte, author of "Venice," etc. Illustrated by over 500 photogravures and engravings. 1 vol., folio, richly bound in cloth extra, gilt edges, morocco backs, $20; or in full morocco, $28.

A really great gift-book inevitably requires a really great subject. And what subject could be better than Florence, with its memories of Dante and Boccaccio, Michael Angelo and Galileo, Machiavelli and Savonarola—"The fair, the happy, the glorious Florence," as Macaulay describes it in one of the most Corinthian, but also one of the best, of his earlier essays—"the halls which rang with the mirth of Pulci, the cell where twinkled the midnight lamp of Politian, the statues on which the young eyes of Michael Angelo glared with the frenzy of a kindred inspiration, the gardens in which Lorenzo meditated some sparkling song for the May-day dance of the Etrurian virgins?" Florence, in its brightest days, seems to have been the very impersonation alike of what was richest in the Pagan Renaissance and of what was most grandiose in Christian art; and a thoroughly well-executed Florence Illustrated ought to be as inspiring and as promptly stimulating as a sonnet by a master-hand.

While the text is to some extent subordinate to the illustrations, at the same time the historical portion of the work, especially the history of the De Medici family, is clear and impartial, and the sketches of "Illustrious Florentines" are crammed with facts. The book will, however, be judged by its illustrations, which are 500 in number, and in all essentials what they should be.

In respect of the historical and biographical illustrations, it is especially fascinating. On every page some face—a Cosimo or a Lorenzo, a poet, a priest, or a painter—is sure to catch the eye, and is almost certain to conjure up a brilliant or a tragic career.

Whoever wishes to understand the extraordinary extravagances of the Renaissance in Italy should look at the pictures here given of the allegories actually represented on the occasion of Bianca Capello's marriage with the Grand Duke Francesco, when, among other freaks, "men and women had their bodies painted with gold, that they might represent the deities of Olympus." Still more generally attractive than even the portraits will probably be found the numerous and admirable specimens of the treasures of the Pitti Palace and of Florentine Art generally. These, however, are too well-known to need specialization or enumeration. We have said enough of the most sumptuous work of the gift-book type that has lately been published and which, from its very character, calls for the criticism of the eye rather than of the pen.

THE HISTORY OF FASHION IN FRANCE:

or, The Dress of Women from the Gallo-Roman Period to the Present Time. From the French of Augustin Challamel. By Mrs. Cashel Hoey and Mr. John Lillie. 1 vol., imperial 8vo, with 21 richly colored and illuminated plates, handsomely bound, imitation of satin-wood, and gilt, $10.

Fashion is the exponent, from the standpoint of costume, of our habits and social relations—in a word, of everything appertaining to the charm of life; it has its value as a moral sign-post, and supplies the historian, the philosopher, and the novelist with a guide to the prevailing ideas of the time. This work is of genuine importance as a comprehensive history of the subject, and of universal interest, appealing to every class and nation. In a clear and graphic style, lightened by frequent social and illustrative anecdote, the author follows thoroughly the course of fashion from the "pastel dye" and "tattoo" of the primitive Gauls down to the more graceful and artistic effects of the year 1880; while the 84 distinct figures, brilliant in colors, supply abundant pictorial embellishment. A new and unique binding of exceptional beauty and effectiveness renders the book as a whole all that can be desired.

ANCIENT GREEK FEMALE

"This book is a remarkable one in many ways, and it is certain to be read and talked about in circles where mere novels receive very little attention. It is cast in a large mould, and has unusual breadth and strength."—N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 17.

"It is easy to praise this remarkable book. It is a book to set men thinking and talking."—N. Y. Times, Nov. 19.

"A noteworthy contribution to American fiction."—N. Y. World.

"A novel of rare excellence and interest."—Chronicle-Herald, Philadelphia.

"Graphic and thrilling."—Public Ledger, Memphis.

This Novel is a Phenomenal Success.
